Islamic Laws in Quran Verses

1: Family Laws

1. Marriage (Nikah)

Quran 30:21

Sahih International:

And one of His signs is that He created for you from yourselves spouses that you may find comfort in them, and He placed between you affection and mercy. Indeed, in that are signs for people who reflect.

Pickthall:

And one of His signs is that He created for you mates from among yourselves that ye may find peace of mind in them, and He ordained between you love and mercy. Lo, herein indeed are portents for folk who reflect.

Context: This verse is often cited as the most beautiful description of marriage in the Quran. It emphasizes the divine wisdom behind marriage and the emotional and spiritual bond between spouses.

Quran 5:1

Sahih International:

O you who have believed, fulfill [all] contracts. Indeed, lawful for you are the animals of grazing livestock except what is recited to you. But do not eat from that which has been slaughtered to other than Allah. Indeed, it is sin. And indeed, Satan does wish to lead you into clear error by that which has been forbidden to you. But if you err and then repent afterward and believe, then indeed, your Lord is Forgiving and Merciful.

Context: This verse speaks about fulfilling contracts, which includes the marriage contract (Nikah). It emphasizes the importance of honoring commitments in marriage.

Quran 24:33

Sahih International:

And those who cannot find marriage due to poverty, let them be patient until Allah enriches them from His bounty. And those whose relatives are taken away from them and who are in need of support – then give them their due from the wealth of Allah which He has given you. And spend not corruptively from that which you do not know [its value].

Pickthall:

And as for those who cannot find marriage, let them be patient until Allah gives them means by His grace. And such of your servants as have no property, ask help from Allah. If ye know any virtue in them, give them help therefrom. And give them of the wealth of Allah which He hath given you, and force not your slave girls to prostitution when they desire marriage, if they desire chastity, in order that ye may make a gain in the goods of this life. But if anyone compel them, then lo! after such compulsion Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

Context: Encourages marriage and provides guidance for those who cannot afford it. It also speaks about the rights of the poor and needy in society.

Quran 4:22

Sahih International:

And do not marry former wives of your fathers – except what has already occurred [in the past]. Indeed, it is ever immorality and hateful [and] and evil as a way.

Pickthall:

And do not marry the women whom your fathers married (except what has already passed); lo! it is an abomination, and hateful, and an evil way.

Context: This verse outlines prohibitions in marriage, specifically forbidding marriage with the wives of one's father (except in cases already passed).

Quran 5:5

Sahih International:

This day [all] the good things have been made lawful for you. And the food of those who were given the Scripture is lawful for you, and your food is lawful for them. And [lawful in marriage are] chaste women from among the believers and chaste women from among those who were given the Scripture before you, when you have given them their due compensation, seeking married life, not committing adultery or taking [secret] lovers. And whoever denies the faith – then he has wasted his deeds, and indeed, he will be among the losers in the Hereafter.

Pickthall:

This day are (all) good things made lawful for you. The food of those who have received the Scripture is lawful for you and your food is lawful for them. And (lawful are) chaste women from among the believers and chaste women from among those who received the Scripture before you (when ye give them their due) for marriage, not for fornication or secret friendship.

Context: This verse permits marriage with chaste women from among believers and People of the Book (Christians and Jews), provided the Mahr (dowry) is given and the marriage is conducted for the purpose of lawful union.

2. Divorce (Talaq)

Quran 2:228

Sahih International:

Divorced women remain in a waiting period ('Iddah) of three menstrual periods, and it is not lawful for them to conceal what Allah has created in their wombs if they believe in Allah and in the Last Day. And during this [waiting] period their husbands have the right to take them back if they desire reconciliation. And the wives have rights similar to those [rights] over their husbands according to what is reasonable, but men have a degree more than them. And Allah is Almighty, Wise.

Pickthall:

Divorced women wait for three periods, and he whose wives divorce them have no right to them again until they have married another besides him. And if they return to him after that, then it is no sin for either of the two to reunite again, if they think that they can keep the limits of Allah, the Lord of Glory.

Context: This is one of the most important verses on divorce. It establishes the waiting period ('Iddah') of three menstrual cycles for divorced women before the divorce is finalized or reconciliation occurs. It also emphasizes the rights of both spouses.

Quran 2:231

Sahih International:

And when you have divorced women and they have fulfilled their waiting period, either retain them according to reasonable terms or release them according to reasonable terms. But do not retain them to harm them or to take advantage of them; whoever does so is indeed committing a sin. And do not take Allah's verses in mockery. And remember what has been revealed to you in the scriptures – of the signs of Allah and His wisdom – and be mindful of Allah. Indeed, Allah is Acquainted with what you do.

Pickthall:

And when ye have divorced women, and they have fulfilled their term, do not prevent them from marrying their (former) husbands if they have agreed together in fair manner. This is an admonition for him among you who believe in Allah and the Last Day. That is for you, cleaner and purer. And Allah Koeth and Ye know not.

Context: Guidance on what to do after the 'Iddah' is over – either reconcile or release the woman with dignity. It forbids using divorce as a means of oppression.

Quran 65:1

Sahih International:

O Prophet, when you [men] divorce women and have fulfilled from them their waiting period, either retain them according to reasonable terms or release them according to reasonable terms. And witness two men among you to this [act]. And the testimony of one man will not be accepted unless it is the testimony of two men.

Pickthall:

O Prophet! When ye do divorce women, divorce them for their appointed period and count the period, and fear Allah, your Lord. Expel not them from their houses wherein they lived, nor let them go forth except they commit an open indecency. These are the limits of Allah. And whoso transgressed the limits of Allah, verily he hath done wrong unto himself.

Context: This verse outlines the process of divorce, emphasizing the need for witnesses and clarity in the waiting period. It also discusses the rights of women to their homes during and after divorce.

Quran 65:6

Sahih International:

Lodge them [divorced women] where you live, according to what is customary, and do not cause them terrible harm and provide for them – one who is rich according to his means, and one who is poor according to his means – a provision according to what is reasonable. That is a duty upon the righteous.

Pickthall:

Lodge them (in houses) where ye dwelt with them according to your means and harass them not so as to make life difficult for them. And if they are pregnant, spend it on them until they bring forth their burden. And if they give suck for thee, give them their wage graciously, and divide (the matter) between you and them in good conscience; but if ye make difficulty for one another, then some other woman may give suck for him.

Context: This verse emphasizes the responsibility of the husband to provide for divorced women, including lodging and maintenance, during the 'Iddah'.

Quran 2:232

Sahih International:

And if they [the divorced women] are pregnant, then spend on them until they give birth. And if they breastfeed for you, then give them their compensation and consult together in good conscience. But if you make difficulties for one another, then there is another woman who can breastfeed for you.

Pickthall:

And if they are pregnant, spend on them till they lay their burden. And if they give suck for thee, give them their wage rightfully. And if ye make difficulty for one another regarding this, then let some other nurse him.

Context: Guidance on maintenance and breastfeeding after divorce if the child is born after divorce.

2. Muamalat (Transaction Laws)

1. Buying and Selling (Trade)

Quran 2:275

Sahih International:

Those who consume interest cannot stand [on the Day of Resurrection] except as one stands who is being beaten by Satan into insanity. That is because they say, "Trade is [just] like interest." But Allah has permitted trade and has forbidden interest. So whoever has received an admonition from his Lord and desists may have what is past, and his affair rests with Allah. But whoever returns [to dealing in interest] – those are the companions of the Fire; they will abide therein eternally.

Context: This is the primary verse that distinguishes lawful trade from unlawful interest. It clearly states that trade is permitted by Allah, while interest is forbidden.

Quran 4:29

Sahih International:

O you who have believed, do not consume one another's wealth unjustly but only [in lawful] business by mutual consent. And do not kill yourselves [or one another]. Indeed, Allah is to you ever Merciful.

Context: This verse establishes a foundational principle for all financial dealings: wealth must be earned through mutually consented, lawful trade. It prohibits fraud, exploitation, and any unjust consumption of property.

Quran 83:1-3

Sahih International:

Woe to those who give less [than due],

Who, when they take a measure from people, take in full,

But when they give by measure or by weight to them, they give less than due.

Context: A powerful condemnation of fraud in trade, specifically cheating in weights and measures. It highlights the importance of honesty and fairness in all commercial transactions.

2. Riba (Usury/Interest) - Prohibited

Quran 2:275-279 (Continuation of the above)

Sahih International (2:275):

...Allah has permitted trade and has forbidden interest...

(2:276): Allah destroys interest and gives increase for charities. And Allah does not like every sinning disbeliever.

(2:278-279): O you who have believed, fear Allah and give up what remains [due to you] of interest, if you should be believers. And if you do not, then be informed of a war [against you] from Allah and His Messenger. But if you repent, you may have your principal - [thus] you do no wrong, nor are you wronged.

Context: These are among the strongest verses against Riba. They declare war from Allah and His Messenger upon those who engage in it, while promising blessing for charity. It mandates the abandonment of all outstanding interest and allows only for the recovery of the principal amount.

Quran 3:130

Sahih International:

O you who have believed, do not consume interest, multiplied many times over, but fear Allah that you may be successful.

Context: A direct commandment to the believers to avoid all forms of compounded interest and to be conscious of Allah in their financial dealings.

Quran 4:161

Sahih International:

And [for] their taking of interest while they had been forbidden from it, and their consuming of the people's wealth unjustly. And We have prepared for the disbelievers among them a painful punishment.

Context: This verse condemns the practice of Riba as a form of consuming people's wealth unjustly and warns of a severe punishment for those who engage in it.

Quran 30:39

Sahih International:

And whatever you give for interest to increase within the wealth of people will not increase with Allah. But what you give in zakah, desiring the countenance of Allah - those are the multipliers.

Context: This verse contrasts the futility of seeking increase through interest with the eternal increase and reward that comes from giving charity (Zakat) for the sake of Allah.

3. Contracts and Agreements

Quran 5:1

Sahih International:

O you who have believed, fulfill [all] contracts. Lawful for you are the animals of grazing livestock except what is recited to you [of the Quran] - hunting being unlawful when you are in the state of ihram. Indeed, Allah ordains what He intends.

Context: This is the key verse on fulfilling contracts. It commands believers to honor all binding agreements and promises, which includes business contracts, marriage contracts, treaties, and personal pledges.

Quran 17:34

Sahih International:

And do not approach the property of an orphan, except in the way that is best, until he reaches maturity. And fulfill [every] commitment. Indeed, the commitment is ever [that about which one will be] questioned.

Context: Emphasizes that every commitment or promise is a serious responsibility for which one will be held accountable.

Quran 2:282 (The Verse of Debt)

Sahih International (Excerpt):

O you who have believed, when you contract a debt for a specified term, write it down... And do not be averse to writing it, whether it is small or large, for its [specified] term. That is more just in the sight of Allah and more sound for evidence and more likely to prevent doubt between you... And let him who incurs the liability dictate... And get two witnesses from among your men... That is more just in the sight of Allah and stronger as evidence and more likely to prevent doubt between you, except when it is an immediate transaction which you conduct among yourselves...

Context: This is the longest verse in the Quran. It provides detailed divine guidance on documenting financial contracts and debts. It mandates written contracts with witnesses to ensure justice, clarity, and the prevention of future disputes. It is a cornerstone of Islamic commercial law.

Quran 16:91

Sahih International:

And fulfill the covenant of Allah when you have taken it, and do not break oaths after their confirmation while you have made Allah your surety. Indeed, Allah knows what you do.

Context: Commands the fulfilling of covenants made with Allah and with people, and strongly forbids breaking solemn oaths.

3: Mawarith (Inheritance Laws)

1. Core Inheritance Passage

Surah An-Nisa (4:11–12, 4:176)

These are the primary inheritance verses.

a) Share of Children & Parents – 4:11

Quran 4:11

Allah instructs you concerning your children:

for the male, what is equal to the share of two females.

But if there are only daughters, two or more, for them is two-thirds of what he left.

And if there is only one, for her is half.

And for one's parents, to each one of them is a sixth of what he left if he had a child.

But if he had no child and the parents [alone] inherit from him, then for his mother is one-third.

And if he had brothers [or sisters], for his mother is a sixth,

after any bequest he [may have] made or debt.

Your parents or your children – you do not know which of them are nearest to you in benefit.

[These shares are] an obligation [imposed] by Allah. Indeed, Allah is ever Knowing and Wise.

This verse covers:

- Sons / daughters' shares
- Parents' shares
- Mentions effect of siblings on the mother's share
- Mentions bequest (Wasiyyah) and debt to be paid first

b) Share of Spouses – 4:12

Quran 4:12

And for you is half of what your wives leave if they have no child.

But if they have a child, for you is one-fourth of what they leave, after any bequest they [may have] made or debt.

And for them [your wives] is one-fourth of what you leave if you have no child.

But if you have a child, then for them is one-eighth of what you leave, after any bequest you [may have] made or debt.

And if a man or woman leaves neither ascendants nor descendants but has a [maternal] brother or a [maternal] sister, then for each one of them is a sixth.

But if they are more than two, they share a third, after any bequest which was made or debt, as long as there is no detriment [caused].

[This is] an ordinance from Allah, and Allah is Knowing and Forbearing.

This verse covers:

- Husband's share
- Wife's share
- Maternal half-siblings' shares (no parents/children: each 1/6; if more, together 1/3)
- Again: Wasiyyah and debts are executed first

c) Share of Siblings (Full / Paternal) – 4:176

Quran 4:176

They request from you a [legal] ruling. Say, “Allah gives you a ruling concerning one having neither descendants nor ascendants [kalālah].

If a man dies, leaving no child but [only] a sister, she will have half of what he left.

And he inherits from her if she [dies and] has no child.

But if there are two sisters, they will have two-thirds of what he left.

If there are brothers and sisters, the male will have the share of two females.

Allah makes clear to you [His law], lest you go astray. And Allah is Knowing of all things.”

This verse covers:

- Full / paternal siblings' shares in case of kalālah (no parents or children)
- Male sibling = share of two females

2. By Your Sub-Topics

A) Share of Sons / Daughters

Main verse: 4:11

Quran 4:11 (part)

Allah instructs you concerning your children:

for the male, what is equal to the share of two females.

But if there are only daughters, two or more, for them is two-thirds of what he left.

And if there is only one, for her is half.

Summary from this verse:

- Son & daughter together:
 - Male = 2 shares, Female = 1 share
- Only daughters:
 - 2 or more daughters: $\frac{2}{3}$ of the estate
 - 1 daughter: $\frac{1}{2}$ of the estate

B) Share of Parents

Main verse: 4:11

Quran 4:11 (part)

And for one's parents, to each one of them is a sixth of what he left if he had a child.

But if he had no child and the parents [alone] inherit from him, then for his mother is one-third.

And if he had brothers [or sisters], for his mother is a sixth,
after any bequest he [may have] made or debt...

Key points:

- If the deceased has children:
 - Father: $\frac{1}{6}$
 - Mother: $\frac{1}{6}$
- If no children and only parents:
 - Mother: $\frac{1}{3}$
 - (Father takes the rest after fixed shares)
- If no children but deceased has siblings:
 - Mother: $\frac{1}{6}$
 - (Siblings may not always inherit directly; this affects the mother's portion.)

C) Share of Spouse (Husband / Wife)

Main verse: 4:12

Quran 4:12 (part)

And for you is half of what your wives leave if they have no child.

But if they have a child, for you is one-fourth of what they leave...

And for them [your wives] is one-fourth of what you leave if you have no child.

But if you have a child, then for them is one-eighth of what you leave...

Key points:

- Husband inherits from wife:
 - If she has no children: husband gets $\frac{1}{2}$
 - If she has children: husband gets $\frac{1}{4}$
- Wife inherits from husband (one or more wives share this):
 - If he has no children: wife/wives get $\frac{1}{4}$ (shared)
 - If he has children: wife/wives get $\frac{1}{8}$ (shared)

D) Share of Siblings

1) Maternal half-siblings (no parents, no children) – 4:12 (end)

Quran 4:12 (end)

And if a man or woman leaves neither ascendants nor descendants but has a [maternal] brother or a [maternal] sister, then for each one of them is a sixth.

But if they are more than two, they share a third, after any bequest which was made or debt...

- One maternal brother or sister: $\frac{1}{6}$
- Two or more maternal siblings: together $\frac{1}{3}$, divided equally

2) Full / paternal siblings – 4:176

Quran 4:176

...If a man dies, leaving no child but [only] a sister, she will have half of what he left.

And he inherits from her if she [dies and] has no child.

But if there are two sisters, they will have two-thirds of what he left.

If there are brothers and sisters, the male will have the share of two females.

- 1 sister (no parents, no children): $\frac{1}{2}$
- 2 or more sisters: $\frac{2}{3}$ (shared)
- Mixed brothers & sisters: male = share of two females

E) Wasiyyah (Will / Bequest)

Wasiyyah is mentioned repeatedly as something that must be executed before division of inheritance, but it is limited by hadith to max $\frac{1}{3}$ and not for legal heirs. Key verses:

1) 4:11

Quran 4:11 (end)

...after any bequest (wasiyyah) he [may have] made or debt...

2) 4:12

Quran 4:12 (multiple places)

...after any bequest they [may have] made or debt...

...after any bequest which was made or debt, as long as there is no detriment [caused].
[This is] an ordinance from Allah...

3) 2:180 – General bequest instruction

Quran 2:180

Prescribed for you, when death approaches any one of you, if he leaves wealth, is that he should make a bequest for the parents and near relatives according to what is acceptable – a duty upon the righteous.

(This early verse is understood together with the detailed fixed-shares of Surah An-Nisa; classical fiqh explains that wasiyyah cannot override the fixed shares, and cannot be to those who are already fixed heirs.)

4: Jinayat (Criminal Laws/Hudud)

1. Theft (Sariqah) Surah Al-Ma'idah 5:38

“[As for] the thief, the male and the female, amputate their hands in recompense for what they committed as a deterrent [punishment] from Allah. And Allah is Exalted in Might and Wise.”

(Quran 5:38)

2. Adultery (Zina) – Surah An-Nur 24:2

“The [unmarried] woman or [unmarried] man found guilty of sexual intercourse – lash each one of them with a hundred lashes, and do not be taken by pity for them in the religion of Allah, if you should believe in Allah and the Last Day. And let a group of the believers witness their punishment.”

(Quran 24:2)

3. False Accusation (Qadhf) – Surah An-Nur 24:4

“And those who accuse chaste women and then do not produce four witnesses – lash them with eighty lashes and do not accept from them testimony ever after. And those are the defiantly disobedient.”

(Quran 24:4)

4. Highway Robbery / Waging War / Terror (Hirabah) – Surah Al-Ma'idah 5:33

“Indeed, the penalty for those who wage war against Allah and His Messenger and strive upon earth [to cause] corruption is none but that they be killed or crucified or that their hands and feet be cut off on opposite sides or that they be exiled from the land. That is for them a disgrace in this world; and for them in the Hereafter is a great punishment.”

(Quran 5:33)

5. Murder / Legal Retaliation (Qisas) – Surah Al-Baqarah 2:178

“O you who have believed, prescribed for you is legal retribution for those murdered – the free for the free, the slave for the slave, and the female for the female. But whoever overlooks from his brother anything, then there should be a suitable follow-up and payment to him with good conduct. This is an alleviation from your Lord and a mercy. But whoever transgresses after that will have a painful punishment.”

(Quran 2:178)

6. Alcohol / Intoxicants – Surah Al-Ma'idah 5:90

“O you who have believed, indeed, intoxicants, gambling, [sacrificing on] stone alters [to other than Allah], and divining arrows are but defilement from the work of Satan, so avoid it that you may be successful.”

(Quran 5:90)

If you want, I can next add the Arabic text for each verse or group all Hudud verses into a printable sheet.

5. Dietary Laws (Haram Foods)

1. Pork

Quran 2:173

Sahih International:

O you who have believed, lawful to you are all good foods, but do not approach dead animals, blood, the flesh of swine, and meat over which the name of other than Allah has been mentioned, or one that has been strangled, or beaten to death, or a fallen animal, or one gored. And [also prohibited is] an animal sacrificed on a stone altar or one divided [by idols] by divination. That is grave disobedience. This is so you may attain taqwa (piety).

Quran 5:3

Sahih International:

This day have I perfected for you your religion and completed My favor upon you and have approved for you Islam as your religion. But whoever is forced by severe hunger, with no intention of sinning – indeed, Allah is Forgiving and Merciful.

Context: The verse seals the prohibition of impurities, including pork, as part of the completed Islamic legal code.

2. Blood

Quran 2:173 (as above)

...and blood... is grave disobedience.

Quran 5:4

Sahih International:

[Allah says]: “Eat not blood; indeed, it is filth.”

Context: Blood (whether drained from animals or consumed in any form) is explicitly forbidden as ritually impure.

3. Dead Animals (Carrion)

Quran 2:173 (as above)

...and dead animals... is grave disobedience.

Quran 6:145

Sahih International:

Say, [O Muhammad], I do not find within that which has been revealed to me anything unlawful to one who eats of it, except a dead animal, or blood spilled, or the flesh of swine – or flesh which has been deviled with by being dedicated to other than Allah. But [if one] is forced by severe hunger, with no intention to commit disobedience – indeed, Allah is Forgiving and Merciful.

Context: “Dead animals” (maytah) refer to animals that died a natural death (not slaughtered properly). Consuming them is prohibited unless under extreme necessity.

4. Alcohol (Intoxicants)

Quran 5:90

Sahih International:

O you who have believed, indeed, intoxicants, gambling, [sacrificing on] stone altars [to other than Allah], and divining arrows are but defilement from the work of Satan. So avoid it that you may be successful.

Satan only intends through them to provoke animosity and envy between you and to prevent you from remembering Allah and from prayer. Will you then cease?

Context: Alcohol and all intoxicants that cloud the mind are strictly prohibited as they lead to moral and spiritual corruption.

5. Animals Not Slaughtered Properly

This includes animals killed by strangling, bludgeoning, falls, goring, wild beasts, or sacrifices to other than Allah.

Quran 2:173 (as above)

...and meat over which the name of other than Allah has been mentioned, or one that has been strangled, or beaten to death, or a fallen animal, or one gored...

Quran 6:121

Sahih International:

And do not eat from that upon which the name of Allah has not been mentioned, for indeed, it is an act of unfaithfulness. And indeed, the devils do whisper to their associates to argue with you, but if you should obey them – indeed, you would be polytheists.

Context: Islamic law requires animals to be slaughtered (Dhabihah) by a Muslim, Christian, or Jew, invoking Allah's name ("Bismillah"). Meat not slaughtered this way (e.g., pork, meat from non-Muslims who do not believe in One God, or improperly killed animals) is forbidden.
